

16. Does the exemption from the obligation to hold an authorization that applies to persons subject to a legally recognized code of ethics also apply if said person is from another member state of the European

Yes, taking into account the fact that said person is subject to a code of ethics under the law of his country of origin and provided that such code of ethics does not exclude the provision of those services.

Source URL: <https://www.fsma.be/en/faq/16-does-exemption-obligation-hold-authorization-applies-persons-subject-legally-recognized-code>